Beach parking lot is proposed

Mayor and Commission Council of Bay St. Louis last week took the first legal step toward providing a municipal parking lot in the downtown area. The proposed location is the Pollack property on Beach Boulevard between Casanova's Auto Supply and Montgray's Hardware. Access and egress to this property from Court Street is also available over a 12-foot easement already owned by the city.

Tentative agreement has been reached between the city and the property owners for a

Renovations covered by new policy

Fire and extended coverage insurance on Webb School, to cover cost of alterations being undertaken to transform the structure into a community center, was authorized by City Commissioners on Monday.

Meeting amid the racket of City Hall renovations, commissioners also dealt with a proposal for Hancock Heights, a request from the police department for another car and discussed the hiring of a dog-catcher.

Webb School alterations are underway and to insure against equalities, commissioners decided to place a fire and extended coverage policy on the school. As city insurance is currently spread between Hancock Insurance Agency, Merchants Insurance Agency, Inc., and Travel Insurance Agency, Inc., commissioners placed the latest policy with Mitchell Realty and Insurance Co.

Police work is to receive another boost with the advent of a new patrol car. Bids are called for April 5 on the car which will be purchased to specifications outlined by Chief Lathrop's Garage.

City clerk J. Cyril Glover raised the likelihood of having to hire a dog catcher. Mayor

Two hundred and six donors turned out to give 186 pints of blood last Wednesday when the Hancock County Blood Bank conducted its first drawing of 1965 at the Legion Home.

John D. Rutherford, Jr., chairman of the bank, said the drawing would have topped its goal of 200 pints if it had not been for a larger than usual number of rejects because of colds.

Those appearing for the drawing included:

Louis J. Breaux, Claude Yarbrough, James H. Cooley, James R. Kelly, Mrs. Charles R. Johnson, Lloyd A. Gilbert, Wilbert Talbert, Irwin Bon-tempe, Milton Phillips, Jr., Samuel B. Hearndon, Victor Schwartz, Charles R. Boykins, James T. Smith, John Gering, Clarence A. McKay, Mrs. Myrtle Downway, O.B. Moore, J.R. Lathrop, Henry D. Evans, Max H. Stone, Donald T. Click, Paul Samko, Rev. A.P. Threlk, Milton S. Lathrop, Mrs. Henry Evans, Thomas P. Lynch, John W. Haynes, Harold J. Favre, Charles Rhodes, Mrs. James McDonald, Mrs. Rosa Cardin, William P. Carbone, Mrs. Louise Craddock, James T. Fayard, R. A. Lange, Thomas E. Powell, Leland Carroll, Herman Acker, Powell Glass, Jr., Mary Dabson.

Gordon Benson, 33, of Boonesville, Iowa, was arrested by Sheriff Sylvan J. Lathrop, Jr., about 9:15 p.m. Tuesday and charged with attempted burglary at Bill's Dollar Store.

Lathrop, accompanied by his son Sylvan, III, passed the store on their way to meet a daughter, Mary Toul, at St. Joseph Academy and noticed the man standing in front of the store.

We're Growing

Leo Moran is opening Saturday Bay Gas, featuring car-care products, on Washington Street adjacent to his present service station. Tommy Godwin will operate the new outlet.

BONUS VALUE - Six-foot clover, unearthed in lawn, was found by Mrs. Alice Garcia of Lower Bay Road on grounds of Mrs. Carl State's home at Lathrop. It's second time Mrs. Garcia has found clover with six leaves. First was 17 years ago on grounds of Cal. James Reed place in Clermont Harbor. She's still looking for three-leafed ones.

PIERIMAGE COMES TO BAY - Lorraine de la Torre, left, describes documents of de la Torre family which in 1689 as garden pilgrims came to Bay-Wave. Tuesday, Mrs. de la Torre and her family home, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Lathrop, where the school classes and accreditation inspection committee for St. Joseph Academy and St. Stanislaus College also visited. In 1965, African violets and collection of miniature decorative terrigenes at Herbert Baron home on Waveland Beach.

Shore man dies 90 yrs.

Hancock County's oldest man, Mrs. E. Courge, died last week at her home in Lathrop. She was 90 years old and had lived with her son, E. Courge, for 100th birthday.

March 1, daughter of Archibald, she was born in 1875. She married in 1887 to E. Courge, who died in the early 1920s.

She lived in the rural areas and taught young people there were public schools. She was active in church work for many years and took the daughters in the Order of the Star 75 years ago.

She was afflicted with the disease and passed away peacefully at her home.

20TH CENTURY TOUCH - Fall-out shelter at home of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Senter, Waveland Beach, intrigued many garden pilgrims. Mrs. Bea Hill, president of host Bay-Waveland Garden Club, displays it. At right is Mrs. Glenn L. Sweetman of Biloxi who has one in her backyard.

COFFEE AT McDONALDS - More than 175 visitors signed guest register at home of Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald, North Beach, first stop on garden pilgrimage where coffee was served. They came from Mississippi Coast and New Orleans, by bus from Pensacola, Fla., Michigan, Wisconsin, Canada and two couples from England.

Soil base alters school design

One major change in the design for the new high school was disclosed by architect Charles L. Brunker Wednesday. The design for the new high school was disclosed by architect Charles L. Brunker Wednesday. The design for the new high school was disclosed by architect Charles L. Brunker Wednesday.

Brunker explained that soil tests of the building site showed poor water bearing characteristics. As earlier planned, the building would have been constructed at the six corners of the triangular building. By changing to a round exterior, the water load will be distributed around the circumference of the building, he said.

Joseph L. Marochino was elected president of Bay-St. Louis Rotary Club by its directors last week. Succeeding Marochino as vice president is Russell (Cont. on Page 7.)

Hancock gets 142 from MTO

Of 722 permanent personnel, not including Corps of Engineer employees, working on March 15 at Mississippi Test Operations only 142 resided in Hancock County, according to a release by NASA's public affairs office.

Paul Styles, director of labor relations for NASA, said after Friday's all-day session, "The matter in contention was resolved to the mutual satisfaction of all parties." Details of the agreement were not disclosed.

Dispute stemmed from a contract awarded by General Electric Co., prime support contractor at MTO, to Consolidated American Services, Inc., of Hawthorne, Calif., for cleaning of the fuel propellant systems of the test stands. CONAM chose to pay its employees, members of the Operating Engineers, to do the work under the contract on an industrial scale of wages. Plumbers and plumbers and other building trades workers took the view CONAM workers should be paid on the basis of wages in the building trades, covered by the Davis-Bacon Act.

The legislation regulates the scale of wages paid in various categories of jobs—in relationship to pre-determined rates prevalent in any particular locality. Styles said he personally felt CONAM workers should receive the building trades scale, the difference being only a few cents. That was the recommendation forwarded from the negotiation sessions as the contracting office at Marshall Space Flight Center under which MTO operates.

Dick Taylor, chairman of the local committee of the President's Missile State Labor Commission, called the work stoppage a repudiation of the Project Stabilization Agreement signed by the unions and contractors in 1963. The walk-out, which started with 195 plumbers and plumbers last Tuesday, virtually stopped building at the test site.

Teen Times

For months we've been finding very little to censure local youth upon current modes of dress, hair-dos and general behavior. Girls' skirts have been worn at not too much above the proper length, currently popular knee socks are not only practical in cold weather, but also look quite good for school and sports wear; boys' Ivy League styles have pretty much replaced hiphanging, skin tight jeans and even our formerly consistent gas thief or thieves have either started buying their own or have found another illicit source of supply. We should have known things were going entirely too well. . .

Thursday night we happened to have a youth standing around the bowling alley and felt so sorry for the poor kid. The back of his head was shaved. . . we thought he'd run short of funds and his mother had resorted to the old-fashioned method of the head haircutting machine, then to our utter horror a couple of other cats summered in with identical mutilations, and the awful truth dawned. This has been done deliberately. It is a style. If you don't mind how you use the word, apparently it's called a "mop top" and we find the above mentioned should give our young men's members on idea of what we think of this. We'll edit out any girl who is in such a state for a day as to go out with anyone wearing such a mop to his or her hair.

So much for that New let's look up with what's been going on here and there. Penny Maule Wynn Hanch was a sweetheart in Alpha Tau Omega's annual sweetheart dance at Tulane University last week.

Kathy Wolkinger is one of our newer and our owners. Kathy's driving a shiny black sports model.

Mary Lagarde told all about her trip to Santa Cruz Beach at the father-daughter luncheon at Our Lady of the Gulf cafeteria last Tuesday night.

James Kappas is back on our gas well with his having had surgery at Hancock General last week.

Michael Ballester really got around. He attended the Metropolitan Ball at the Brookhaven March 21st recently as the guest of her cousin, Leslie Brown, who is president of the organization.

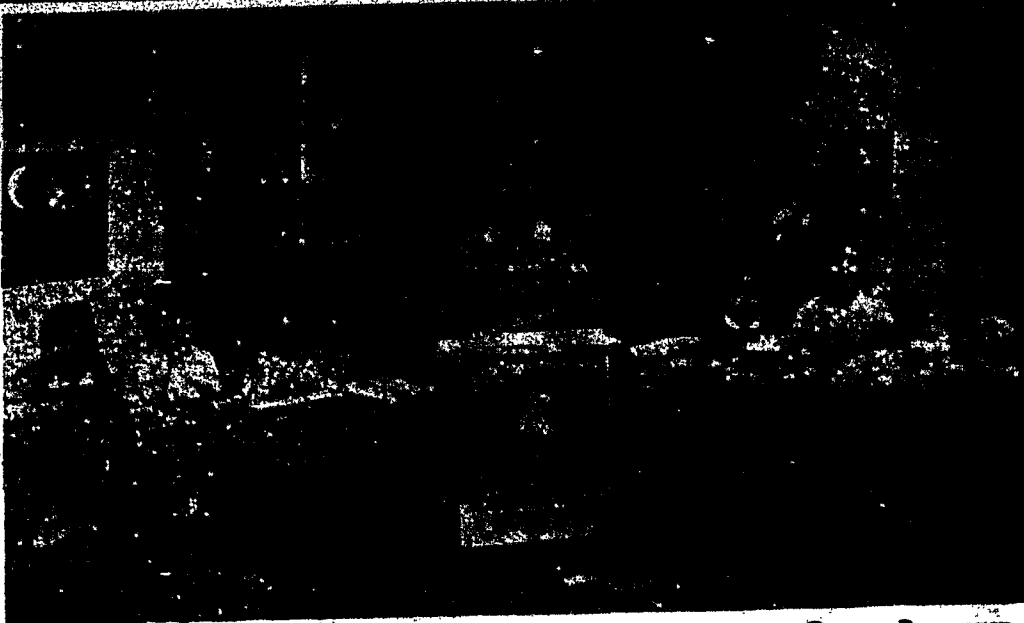

Two Hancock County girls took part in a spring modern dance concert at Pearl River Junior College March 12. They were Karen Thomas, a BayHigh graduate, and Paula Haniel who transferred her diploma from North Central, another frequent weekend visitor. Dorothy Lachar who is Mrs. Lauren Senter's sister, was also in the production.

Ann Ballatin who moved to New Orleans in September spent the weekend in Waveland.

Several members of the younger set are employed at MITO. Jimmy Long, Tom Wynn, Leslie Ballatin, Don Wolkinger and Ray Taylor all seem to enjoy their work.

Lots of birthday wishes this week. Congratulations go to Priscilla Thomas who was 17 on March 14; to Faye Maule and Amy French who cut their cakes on the same day, Tuesday, March 16; Faye was 21, Amy 18. Congratulations to Marjorie Galt, 16, on her birthday, she was 17 on Friday, March 12.

to have a beach party, nothing is going to stop them. Last Wednesday afternoon's down-pours and gusty winds didn't dampen their two and a half day vacation from school for the annual teachers convention celebration. Susan Wood and Rinnie Person were chaperones, no less. Cynthia Depree surprised Diane Ballester with a birthday party at her home on Saturday, March 13, Diane's 17th birthday. Best part of the surprise was the fact that Ben was there.

Ben who? Just ask her. Some of the guests included Marye Haggland, David Carter, Sonny H a s s o n, Claire McArthur, Wynn Fredericks, Sylvia Marvel, Emma Norman, Karen Ellis, Charles (last name unknown), Mary Perkins, Roger (last name unknown), (last name unknown) and Brenda Fricks.

Diane's surprise was re-received to school after having an appendectomy at Hancock General on March 11.

Wynn Thomas got behind birthday greetings having cut his cake on Sunday, March 14.

Mary Ann Scimma presented Al Van Antz with an early Easter gift—a squeaky rabbit with a pink bow around its neck. . . poor Al had to carry it around with him all day at school!

Dr. Davis... for USM...

Dr. J. Travis Davis, chairman of the Department of Memory & the University of Southern Mississippi, will speak on "Studies in Memory" when the Hancock County chapter, USM, holds its annual Mississippi Day at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Main Street.

A brief business session with election of officers and a fellowship period will precede the program.

Dr. Davis, nominee for distinguished professor of the year in 1964, joined the Southern faculty in 1948. He received his BS degree from Mississippi State University and his master's and doctorate from Vanderbilt University.

The executive committee of the alumni chapter will have Dr. Davis as guest at dinner before the meeting at Anna's Restaurant.

$60,000 to $75,000 additional.

The problem was not so acute with the smaller schools, but so it would conform with the other two structures it also will be round.

Proffer told the board he would have the final designs and specifications ready for advertisement for bids in 30 days. With this in mind the board asked him to meet with them on April 27 for final approval. Meanwhile at their regular meeting on April 13 Proffer and the trustees are to go over final plans for additions at Waveland School, Valena C. Jones School and dressing room facilities at Tiger Stadium.

lease covering both the property contemplated for use as a parking lot and the same owner's property on the opposite side of Beach Boulevard.

According to Commissioner J. Cyril Glover the city has no definite plan yet for use of the latter property located between de Montuzin Drug and Braxler's Cafe.

By Ordinance No. 156 the city has set 10 a.m. April 19, as the time to hear objections to its plan to lease this property.

For several weeks the mayor and commissioners have been looking into the feasibility of the city leasing this property for a parking lot. Impetus was given the idea when it was decided, at the urging of merchants, to substitute a two hour parking limit, commencing April 1, for the parking meters now being used. Both moves are being made in the hope of enabling merchants in the downtown area to better compete with stores in shopping centers and in less densely used areas.

Regional planners to ask 1st study

The NASA promoted Mississippi-Louisiana Regional Planning Commission Tuesday night approved a $75,000 contract with Planning Services, Inc., of New Orleans for the first phase of regional planning for the four county area affected by Mississippi Test Operations.

The pact for technical services is contingent on the OK of the counties—Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River in Mississippi and St. Tammany Parish in Louisiana.

Under the financing plan proposed by the commission, Hancock County is being asked to allot $4,826 while Harrison's share is $16,168, Pearl River's is $8,189 and $10,273 is being asked from St. Tammany.

The Federal Housing and Home Finance Administration has indicated it will match local funds on a 2 for 1 basis when each county assures it will participate in the regional program. On that formula, HHFA would allocate $78,912 for a total first year budget of $118,368.

The request for Hancock's contribution is expected to come before the board of supervisors next month. Supervisors declined to earmark funds for regional planning at millage setting time last fall, arguing that county planning was the first need and they had been unable to get the county application for matching funds cleared through the various state and federal agencies. The board later was asked to take the contribution from the general fund.

Harrison County Monday afternoon organized a Bay-Waveland Archery Club are to meet at 7:45 p.m. next Tuesday at 507 N. Second St. Information may be secured by phoning Ed Hall at 467-7259 or R. Smith at 467-4322 after 6 p.m.

Renovations...

John Scaffide agreed with the idea in principle and suggested considering a part-time employee. One letter of application had been received prior to the meeting but no action was taken.

Norton Haas, Jr., engineer of Hancock Heights subdivision, met with council to discuss the possibility of the city applying utilities to the new development. No firm proposition were submitted but Haas will furnish council a letter containing intent and requirements to be forwarded.

By towns playing leads with 222, most employed by General Electric or its sub-contractors, followed by Bay St. Louis, 110, Pass Christian, 97, Slidell, 84, Long Beach 45, Gulfport, 38, and Waveland and Biloxi, 25 each. Seven call Pearlington home, with only one living in Lakeshore and Kih.

General Electric employs 418 on the 722 involved in the count and its sub-contractors account for 181 more. Of Hancock Countyans listed in the report, 73 work for GE, 43 for GE sub-contractors, 16 are with North American Aviation, nine with NASA and one with the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Peralta wins bowling event

Tony Peralta won the men's double elimination handicap bowling tournament at Tower Lanes last weekend, topping a field of 32 entries.

Peralta lost one match out of seven when Bob Summerall topped him in the first game of the finals. Peralta took the second game and the tournament. Finishing behind the two finalists were Bill Richards and Clayton Adams.

The women's handicap tournament will be played the weekend of April 2 and 3, and the following weekend men's and women's scratch competition will be staged.

Miss Larsen is to marry Mr. McCordle

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Larsen of New Orleans are announcing the wedding of their daughter, Cathy Ann, to Thomas Lee McCordle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McCordle of Lakeview.

The wedding is planned for April 24 at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in New Orleans.

Miss Larsen was educated in New Orleans schools. Her fiancé is a graduate of Bay High School and is now employed in New Orleans.

INITIATED

Nancy McCaleb, granddaughter of Col. and Mrs. A.F. Dickson (a guest at your reporter's) Irene Feeney just to mention a few.

Mary Lou Kleinhaus isn't going to let Clare get too far ahead of her bowling-wise. She had a 240 game in Thursday night Miss First League play.

Busy beavers build

We realize children seem to be getting more precocious each year, but had no idea fourth graders could be so artistic until viewing beaver dams constructed by Mary Perkins' class at Waveland school. They were really amazing in detail and imagination. One even had a tiny pile of real sawdust where his beaver had gnawed a tree.

Baseball personality Hugh Hines (he's Herb's brother) was in town briefly Saturday en route to Wisconsin. Hugh's now associated with the White Sox.

Country music fans in for a treat if they just happen to be around when Willie Haas sings along with his hit record, My Son Calls Another Man Daddy.

Catharine Meyer is driving around in a lovely new red automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. N.L. Carter have returned from Key West after a two week vacation there. They report the weather was quite chilly but enjoyed visiting the lovely home recently purchased by Mrs. Horace Williams and Mrs. Tommy Adler which is quite impressively located on an island.

Col. and Mrs. Marcel Gillis are spending two months in Palm Beach, but haven't heard how they have found temperatures in that Florida city.

Mrs. Fisher gives lesson on Bible

Mrs. Marie Fisher gave the Bible lesson and the business meeting followed when the afternoon circle of the Women of First Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Earl Gages on Tuesday, March 8.

Other members present were mesdames James Dees, Alex. Jenevett, S.K. Kepner, John Landon, E.A. Lindsey, John Middleton, John McPhail, George Prewitt, Ted Rebol, Jr., and C.J. Gallasero.

Next meeting will be Tuesday April 6, at the home of Mrs. S.K. Kepner on Bay Oaks Drive.

Fishing notes

The water finally got right around the end of last week and Rae Gerwood forgot about everything else to go after grass trout Thursday. Of course Friday's norther pushed the tide too far out for anything drawing more water than a skiff to get out of Bayou Cade.

Congratulations to our old friend Herman Hoda, formerly manager, now operator of the A & G heater.

Benny Lagasse, in behalf of St. Clare's Holy Name Society, has asked us to thank all who attended the fried chicken dinner at the parish hall Sunday for making the affair such a success. Over 300 were served. He also wants to apologize to some who had to wait as a too small gas line slowed down the frying process, but assures all that this will be remedied before the next feed.

Doggy doings

And we've quite a few this week. Most urgent is the fact that Herman is lost. Not the husband Herman, but one of Nel and Wayne Dacron's canine. Herman, labeled by the children as a golden retriever, is in truth a member of the everpopular Hottentot breed, but has lovely long silky hair and is of medium size. When last seen around Kila he was wearing a red collar and vaccination tag. Anyone finding Herman is asked to call the Ducombs who have been spending several hours a day searching for him. Lillian Griffin has a new pet—a tiny male toy Manchester christened Mincer. Lillian fell in love with Betty Phillips' recently acquired Little Lady and was fortunate enough to acquire her brother from Kary and Goobar Godwin. Sympathy to Louis Lebar upon the loss of his lovely Labrador.
